

SaltCreek plays good-hearted music that gets the blood flowing and the foot tapping, otherwise known as Bluegrass Gospel. If energy was ever contagious, then these guys have found the key! There seems to be a therapeutic value to their music, and you're guaranteed to feel better after their annointment.

The group has played music for over 12 years and produced 2 CD's. Five guys playing 10 different instruments, with acappella singing mixed into a program, creates a variety of different sounds for the group. Vocals are one of SaltCreek's strengths, as their 4 part Harmonies are pleasing to listen to (no songs in a bucket here). All of the groups members originate from the Tulsa, Okla. Area.

Steve Gardner plays lead guitar and bass, Tim O'Hearn plays mandolin, guitar and bazouki, Mark Martin plays Bass Fiddle, bones and guitar, Dave Shepherd plays rhythm guitar, Autoharp and Bass Fiddle and Rob Bettinger plays banjo and harmonica.

Come worship and sing-a-long with SaltCreek at their next visit.
